Lab 5

In this lab you learn to store properties in the web.xml

Store the properties to connect to the database server in the configuration file web.xml. Refactor the servlet and other classes to ensure that the application reads the properties from the configuration file.